

Friday
April
21
2006

THE DAILY JOURNAL

San Mateo County's homepage

Daily Journal Quick Poll

What should schools do with students who do not pass the mandated California exit exam but meet all other requirements?

Letters

Editor,

Since last fall, cities and counties all over the Bay Area have passed new laws protecting the public against the dangers of secondhand smoke.

This week, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed two more ("County snuffs out smoking" in the April 19 edition of the Daily Journal). The first ordinance expands the smoke-free buffer zone outdoors surrounding County buildings to 30 ft. The second ordinance bans smoking in common areas of multi-unit housing, both indoors and outdoors. The American Lung Association of the Greater Bay Area thanks the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors for their leadership in moving pro-actively to protect residents, workers and visitors from exposure to what the State of California has officially declared a toxic air contaminant, placing secondhand smoke in the same category as benzene, arsenic, and diesel exhaust.

The American Lung Association of the Greater Bay Area urges the cities in San Mateo County to follow the Board of Supervisor's lead and take the necessary steps to protect multi-unit housing dwellers and residents visiting their local government buildings.

Breathing clean air is a right, not a privilege.

Bay Area residents can go online at www.BayAreaLung.org or call 1-800-LUNG-USA for more information about clean air laws, lung health, and quit-smoking resources.

Karen Fulton Holine

Oakland

The letter writer is the president and CEO of the American Lung

Association of the Greater Bay Area.

 Send a Letter to the Editor |  Post your comment |  Email to Friend |  Print this Page

<< Back

Home
Local News
State / National / World
Sports
Opinion / Letters
Business
Arts / Entertainment
Lifestyle
Obituaries
Calendar
Special
Submit Event
Comics / Games
Classifieds
DJ Designers
Community Forum
Archives
Advertise With Us
About Us

NEWS // EDITORIAL // LETTERS // SPORTS // COMMUNITY // BUSINESS // HEALTH // SENIORS // CALENDAR // SUBSCRIBE
CLASSIFIEDS // PHOTO GALLERY // REVIEW MAGAZINE // COASTSIDE GUIDE

Cities should follow county's lead on second-hand smoke

Dear editor:

Since last fall, cities and counties all over the Bay Area have passed new laws protecting the public against the dangers of secondhand smoke. Last week, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed two more.

The first ordinance expands the smoke-free buffer zone outdoors surrounding county buildings to 30 feet. The second ordinance bans smoking in common areas of multi-unit housing, both indoors and outdoors.

The American Lung Association of the Greater Bay Area thanks the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors for its leadership in moving proactively to protect residents, workers and visitors from exposure to what the state of California has officially declared a toxic air contaminant, placing secondhand smoke in the same category as benzene, arsenic and diesel exhaust.

The American Lung Association of the Greater Bay Area urges the cities in San Mateo County to follow the Board of Supervisors' lead and take the necessary steps to protect multi-unit housing dwellers and residents visiting their local government buildings.

Breathing clean air is a right, not a privilege.

Bay Area residents can go online at www.BayAreaLung.org or call 1-800-LUNG-USA for more information about clean air laws, lung health and quit-smoking resources.

Karen Fulton Holine

American Lung Association of the Greater Bay Area

Wednesday, April 26, 2006

Print this story | Email this story | Comments

The Almanac

April 26, 2006

Back to Table of Contents Page

Viewpoint - Wednesday, April 26, 2006

LETTERS

Grateful for expanded smoking law

Editor:

Since last fall, cities and counties all over the Bay Area have passed new laws protecting the public against the dangers of secondhand smoke.

Last week, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed two more. The first ordinance expands the smoke-free buffer zone outdoors surrounding county buildings to 30 feet. The second ordinance bans smoking in common areas of multi-unit housing, both indoors and outdoors.

The American Lung Association of the Greater Bay Area thanks the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors for their leadership in moving pro-actively to protect residents, workers and visitors from exposure to what the State of California has officially declared a toxic air contaminant, placing secondhand smoke in the same category as benzene, arsenic, and diesel exhaust.

The lung association urges the cities in San Mateo County to follow the supervisor's lead and take the necessary steps to protect multi-unit housing dwellers and residents visiting their local government buildings.

Breathing clean air is a right, not a privilege. Bay Area residents can go online at www.BayAreaLung.org or call 1-800-LUNG-USA for more information about clean air laws, lung health, and quit-smoking resources.

Karen Fulton Holine

American Lung Association

of the Greater Bay Area

The Almanac

Copyright ©2006 Embarcadero Publishing Company. All rights reserved.
Reproduction or online links to anything other than the home page
without permission is strictly prohibited.